● THE ROYAL CAMPSITE

The brief history about Royal Campsite

Queen Elizabeth of England was expected to visit the conservancy, traveling along the Rift Valley trails from the Eastern range to the West in 1954. However, the visit was canceled due to her father's death. Additionally, President Moi was also very interested in the campsite and used to visit the conservancy regularly to hold meetings with the region's leaders. Hence, the campsite was named the Royal Campsite.
